By Bus:

- Use the Tri-Met website (www.trimet.org) to find the best bus for you. Likely it will be the #8. Get off at the OHSU Library stop. Go up two flights of stairs to the sky bridge (or take the elevator just inside). Walk towards the fountain in front of MacKenzie Hall and take the stairs on the left side.

By car:

- Getting to us: Take Sam Jackson Park road up the hill. Go under two pedestrian bridges and turn right into "Auditorium Parking" (if you pass Plaid Pantry, you've gone too far).
- Parking: There is a loading zone just past the loading dock. You may park here for 20 min. There are free 2 hour parking spots nearby and paid parking permits available at the bottom of the hill (see link above for more information).

Finding Us

We are located in the Center for Research in Occupational and Environmental Toxicology (CROET; aka Richard Jones Hall, the building with the marble head in front (see building picture on right). We are on the main floor – enter the double doors for the "Toxicology Information Center". If you see stairs, you've gone in the wrong doors.

We are on the third (main) floor in room CROET 3522.
